Miss A. Taylor's Father Dead.

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Baltimore of the venerable Mr. Samuel Taylor, father of Miss Amanda Taylor, so many years president of the Wheeling Female College. The remains will be brought to this city, arriving at 10:30 Saturday morning, over the P. C. & St. L. railroad, and will be interred from the depot, at Greenwood.

Suicide—Oesterling.

Mr. Louis F. Stifel and Miss Frederica Oesterling were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. Peter Oesterling, in Allegheny City, Rev. Mr. Russell officiating. The wedding was quiet, only a few of the closest relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Stifel, father and mother of the groom, went to Allegheny yesterday to witness the ceremony. Mr. Stifel is a well known member of the Ohio county bar, with other substantial interests, and the bride is a daughter of the late John Oesterling. A number of congratulatory telegrams were sent the newly-wedded pair yesterday afternoon, and these will be followed by numerous hearty congratulations delivered in person as soon as Mr. and Mrs. Stifel return home.

B. & O. Officials on an Inspection Tour.

President Myers and the party of B. & O. officials who started out last week on a tour of inspection, arrived here from Baltimore yesterday in their special cars. There were five of the cars, all private cars of the officials of the company in the train. They were especially interested in the new improvements at Benwood, which all but one or two of them then saw for the first time. The party did not stay in this vicinity long, and left for the West to look at the Central Ohio and other trans-Ohio divisions of the company's line. They were all highly pleased with the Benwood changes, and approved heartily of what had been done there.

At the Main Street Bridge.

The timber work of the arch of the Main street bridge has been all completed but the sheathing, which it will take several days to adjust after the arch is all ready to receive it. The water got up on the ends of the arch several feet, and it was feared that it might have a bad effect on the lowest sand boxes, though the cylinders with which they are plugged up are purposely made of green wood so that moisture will not swell them. The stone is being piled in the yard near the bridge in large quantities, and some of them are much larger than any of the stones heretofore used.

How Colds are Cured in the South.
W. J. Flowers, of Dorance, Georgia, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best I can get for Coughs, Colds and Croup," and many others who have used it are of the same opinion. Its promptness in loosening and relieving severe colds has made it deservedly popular.

A DRUMMER'S sample always contains the best a house carries. We have been fortunate in securing a line of linens from the representative of a large importing house and will sell all at special sale to-day.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

Neald Breathes his last without Regaining Consciousness.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST IS BEGUN.

And the Jury Adjourned over until this Morning—A Clot of Blood on the Right Side of the Brain the Immediate Cause of Death—The Body taken to Ulica, N. Y.

At precisely eight minutes before six o'clock yesterday morning Ed Neald died from the results of the blows on his head with a heavy club, given him by Frank Church on Tuesday for alleged insults to the wife of Church. The injured man never regained consciousness after he became unconscious some time Tuesday afternoon, and it was evident from the revelations of a post mortem examination yesterday that no surgical operation or anything else could have saved his life. On the right side of his brain a large blood-clot had formed as the result of the injury inflicted by the blow on that side of the head. It was Dr. Spragg's idea all along that it was that blow which had done the greatest injury.

Mrs. Neald was with her husband up to the last. Her position was unspeakably sad, meeting such a bereavement with the attendant circumstances among strangers, and she received the heartfelt sympathy of everybody who saw how bravely she struggled to keep from being overcome by her emotions. Her husband was never able to speak a word to her, nor even to recognize her, and from the time she first saw him there was not for a moment a hope of any result of his wounds but death. He sank gradually till death put an end to his suffering.

AN INQUEST STARTED.

With Mrs. Neald when he died were Mrs. Zine, her friend from Moundsville, Mr. Riddle, a friend of her husband's, Dr. Spragg's assistant and the attaches of the police headquarters. Mrs. Neald broke down and took the death very hard when all was over.

The body was taken to Frow & Bertsch's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial. Coroner Phillips being notified of the death, empanelled a jury composed of Messrs. H. P. McGrover, William Ellingham, Eugene Z. Hanke, C. F. Brandt, W. H. Fee and John Howell. They viewed the remains and found that two blows had been received on the head—one on the right side near the top and the other over the right ear. It was stated that the latter blow is the one that caused death, having caused a concussion that formed a clot of blood on the brain. Several operations had been performed to relieve this, but they had been unsuccessful. Another blow was also found on the left arm, which had evidently been received by Neald in protecting his head.

Hon. George W. Atkinson was present on behalf of the state. He will assist Prosecuting Attorney Howard in prosecuting Church. After viewing the remains the jury was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning to give Dr. Wilson time to make a post mortem examination of the body.

Dr. Wilson finished the autopsy shortly after noon and reported as stated above, that the cause of death was a blood clot on the right side of the brain. There had been talk of making an incision in the left side of the skull to relieve the brain of the pressure from which it was evident that the patient suffered, but the result of the examination showed that this could not have afforded any relief. The inquest will be continued at 9:30 this forenoon.

CHURCH TAKES IT HARD.

Frank Church, the man whose assault on Neald resulted in his death, was very seriously affected by the information that his victim was dead. Mrs. Church was the first to inform him. Since the second arrest of Church and his incarceration in the county jail to await the result of Neald's wounds the two have been informed at once of any change in the wounded man's condition. As soon as Mrs. Church was informed yesterday morning in answer to her anxious inquiry that the man was dead, she hastened to the jail and told her husband the news. He was sadly affected, and took on terribly, again saying that he never meant to take the man's life.

The offense of which Church is accused is very serious. Of course the crime is alleged to be murder in the first degree, until it is established that it was a crime of less degree. It is thought, however, that the fact that the assault was not made with intent to kill can be established to the satisfaction of any jury, and that the gravest offense of which he can be convicted will be voluntary manslaughter. The affair is terrible from whatever point of view it is regarded, and its wide reaching effects ought to be a sad lesson to everybody. It is said of Church by those who know him best that his worst fault is a violent and ungovernable temper.

Its Excellent Qualities.

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.
